

Team Journal – Day 13

Tuesday 4th April

This morning we had our first individual shoot - the Scottish Sword (or Skotse Swaard for our Afrikaans-speaking readers). The individual shoots are shot in two details so the buses have been rearranged so that all their occupants are on the same details (thus creating an entirely new set of back-seat advisers for the drivers). When we arrived at the range we found conditions not unlike yesterday - sunny, with a good breeze and a very pleasant temperature. We also found our old friend Brigadier General Mac Alexander in charge of the range - as he will be for the rest of the meeting. The General runs a disciplined range with a soft voice - when he gently points out (more in sorrow etc.) that kit or shooters have approached too closely to the firing point before their detail it is notable how quickly the area clears.

Brigadier General Mac Alexander

The Scottish Sword is shot at 300m and 900m, 10 to count at each range - although at 900m James Watson's competitive instinct took over and he fired an 11th shot. He successfully argued that he had been misled by a South African shooting partner and his last shot was cancelled (at least it was only a magpie).

We have not yet had any results from the stats office here so far now we can only record GB team scores. At 300m there were 9 possibles with David Calvert leading the field with an outstanding 50.9. At 900m, with a strong and changeable right hand wind blowing, there were no possibles; the top score of 49.4 was achieved by Nick Tremlett, Peter Griggs and Jeremy Langley. At lunchtime the top three scores in the Scottish Sword were held by Nick (99.9), Peter Griggs (99.8) and David (98.13).

After lunch we had the Dewar Shield - teams of 6 at 300m and 600m (10 to count at each range). Each team was captained by one of the coaches. The wind was still somewhat tricky and there were fewer 50s at 300m than there had been without coaching in the morning. Top score at 300m was 50.6 (Richard Jeens and James Watson). At 600m there was but one solitary possible, recorded by Jeremy Langley (50.4). The winning team was Nick Tremlett's with 585.54 (Griggs, Woodward, Deane, Jeens, Ball and Langley). Runner-up was Stuart Collings' team with David Calvert's coming in third.

High score in the daily aggregate was provided, for the second day, by Jeremy with 198.18 from Peter Griggs with 197.16 and John Deane with 194.17. Of course, it should be noted that the coaches were excluded from being competitive in the daily agg because they did not shoot in the afternoon.

We got back from the range at about 5 p.m. A team meeting and bullet-pushing for the next few days looked to occupy most of the evening so we opted for pizzas around the bullet press for sustenance.

The Vice Captain checks his sights at 300m

	5007715	H SWO	60	DEWA	SA	1620
NO.	360 m	900	MAGG			AGG	DAILY AGG
Captain	48.5	44-1	92.6	48.3	43·P	91-3	183 - 9
Chris Fitzpatrick	49.3 €	R 45.1	944	49.3	46-2	95.5	189 - 9
Jonathan Haward	48.4	461	945	49-4	49-3	98-7	192-12
Nick Tremlett	505	(49*)	99.2	Potal C
David Calvert	(50 g)	48-4		Patid OA	11
Stuart Collings	505	484	987	1969/97	#65
Nigel Ball	505	401'	906	49.34	486	9710	18716
Matt Button	45(2	483	975	48.3	463	946	191"
Paul Charlton	494	454	948	47.2	47.1	943	188 "
John Deane	506	462	968	50.5	484	989	194 - 17
Rupert Dix	492	462	954	48.3	483	966	191 - 13
Peter Griggs	50 ⁴	(491)	(53%	493	495	98 8	197-16
Peter Holden	49.7	47 ³	96 10	48.2	47.2	95-4	191 . 14
Jonathan Holmes	4364	42.2	90.0	49.3	49.5	78 ×	188.14
Richard Jeens	50.5	47.0!	97.5	(So 6)	46.5	96.11	193 - 16
Jeremy Langley	49.5	(49 4)	98.9	50.5	(30.4)	100.9	(198-18)
Richard Shouler	43.4	49.1	92.5	48.3	48.5	96.8	188 13
Alistair Speirs	507	48.3	98.10	49.7	462	959	19319
James Watson	50.3	45.1	95.4	(50.6)	48.5	98.11	193.15
Alexander Woodward	48.4	46.3	94.7	49.2	47.5	96.7	190-14
Jesl	49-6	24-2	93-8	48.5	47.1	1956	188 - 14

Today's GB team scores in full